Subject: Comments on the Proposed Amendment to the Measure R Expenditure Plan

Dear Supervisor Antonovich and Metro Directors:

On behalf of the La Verne City Council, I am writing to express our deep concerns regarding the proposed Measure R Expenditure Plan Amendment, as presented by Metro CEO Art Leahy. The amendment is out of date and incomplete. It must be updated. Since Measure R is a taxpayer approved plan, the proposed amendment is not reflecting the will of the voters. It is not sufficiently transparent and does not fulfill Metro's legal obligations.

The proposed amendment is incomplete in some cases, and incorrect in others. The expenditure plan was put together in 2008, and since that time extensive study has been conducted on many of the transit projects. Regrettably, the proposed amendment does not contain the information from those studies. In addition, the amendment does not provide information about the additional costs associated with the acceleration of select projects.

In the transit section there are a number of obvious examples of line items that are out of date. The proposed plan continues to show the cost estimates for the I-405/Sepulveda Pass and Santa Ana Branch corridors as "TBD," while Metro's own financial plan for the accelerated projects shows the cost as $2.5 billion and $650 million respectively. Actual cost estimates for completing these two projects must be included in the expenditure plan amendment, as well as the amount of Measure R funding being allocated to each project, and the additional cost associated with project acceleration.

The Foothill Extension project is an important example of inaccurate information being presented in the amendment. The current plan shows an incorrect cost estimate of $758 million, and 2017 completion year. This information reflects the initial segment of the project only, not completion of the project as defined in the statute. The updated expenditure plan must reflect the true "estimated total cost" of $1.714 billion to complete the project to Claremont, as well as an updated completion year. Although Measure R will not fully fund the project to Claremont, you must include information relating to completion of the entire project to meet legal obligations. As you have done with all other underfunded Measure R projects, you can include "TBD" in the "other funding" category for the Foothill Extension project to deal with the funding gap. No additional Measure R funding is expected.

The agency's planning work over the last five years must be incorporated for all projects in the expenditure plan. New information on the estimated total cost for each project, the assumed Measure R funding, and the timeline for completion should be updated for each project. If additional funding is planned for accelerating select projects, that too must be identified.

As elected leaders overseeing tens of billions of dollars in transportation funding, you must demand transparency from your staff. The expenditure plan is a legally required planning document that must provide a full understanding of how and when Measure R funds are being spent. As the Board considers accelerating the projects, it must also explain the cost of accelerating these projects. Further, the plan must show how the allocation of funds by Metro, and the additional cost, will impact completion of other Measure R projects.

The Board should not accept the current expenditure plan amendment. Rather, the board should require its staff to provide an updated and accurate plan that reflects the full information available for each project.

The City of La Verne asks that the Board take the appropriate action to rectify the deficiencies in the current expenditure plan amendment.

Sincerely,

Don Kendrick
Mayor
